

Share with the team.

Unit tests should have concrete data values.

Document how the servlet calls will be made for the integration tests (your REST API usage). This includes the concrete input data (post parameters...) and the concrete output data.

Good class diagram.

dmf